GRASPING THE NETTLE

A conviction has been growing amongst church leaders in Scotland of the need for an informed and respectful dialogue on ‘the Science/God issue’, in which we learn respectfully about scientific questions from scientific experts but also recognise that many aspects of life of great importance to humans lie outside of science.

Aptly described as 'Grasping the Nettle' this movement, chaired by the Very Rev John Chalmers, aims to transform the public understanding of the issues at the heart of the Science/God debate.
